Batterer's Intervention Program (BIP)

Recovery Technology's Batterers Intervention program is available for men and women who have committed or exhibit violent, abusive or controlling behavior in their relationships and want to put an end to it.

BIP Sessions Emphasize:

- Identification of physically abusive behaviors and recognition of other abusive and controlling acts
- Acceptance of responsibility for one's own behavior
- Realization of the destructiveness of these abusive acts
- Elimination of these destructive acts using alternative behaviors
- Maintenance of the new behaviors through reinforcement and practice
- Recognition of the difference between emotions, thoughts and actions
- Developing the skills to express and communicate feelings and emotions effectively and non-abusively

Our BIP program is a twenty-six or fifty-two-week program that coordinates closely with referrals from the Jackson County legal system, although a batterer may attend the program voluntarily. If a batterer is referred to our BIP group by the courts, attendance and completion of the program are monitored.

Our BIP program is in full compliance with the Batterer Intervention Standards for the State of Michigan, using the nationally respected Duluth Model.
