

Group Attendance Rules

Anger Management: Participants starting the 12-week Anger Management Group will be allowed a total of 4 excused absences before having to re-start the program.

Batterers Intervention Program: Participants starting the 26-week BIP will be allowed a total of 7 excused absences before having to re-start the program.

Character Development: Participants starting the 8-week program will be allowed 2 excused absences before having to re-start the program.

All participants in groups are expected to call prior to group when not attending. Pre-arranged considerations for work or medical related absences are at the discretion of the group facilitators. Unexcused absences will be reported to the referral source or probation officer and may result in discharge from the group.

Attendance Rules are strictly enforced.

I have read the attendance rules and completely understand my responsibilities for completing the above program.
